- 4.11 Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any Service Agreement and to the extent legally permissible under the applicable laws, Epsilon shall be entitled to set-off any and all amounts owing by Customer to Epsilon against any monies owing by Epsilon to Customer whether under a Service Agreement or otherwise, and Customer should be responsible to pay such balance amount remaining unpaid to Epsilon following such set-off by Epsilon.

- 10.8 Epsilon shall at Customer's cost and expense refer to Customer all requests it receives for exercising any Data Subjects' rights under Chapter III of the UK GDPR which relate to any Protected Data. It shall be Customer's responsibility to reply to all such requests as required by applicable law.

- 10.9 Upon termination of the Services which include the processing of Protected Data, at Customer's cost and at Customer's option, Epsilon shall either return all of the Personal Data to the Customer or securely dispose of the Personal Data (and thereafter promptly delete all existing copies of it) except to the extent that any applicable law requires Epsilon to store such Protected Data.

- 10.10 Customer shall indemnify and keep indemnified Epsilon against all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, fines, sanctions, interest, penalties, costs, charges, expenses, compensation paid to Data Subjects, demands and legal and other professional costs (calculated on a full indemnity basis and in each case whether or not arising from any investigation) arising out of or in connection with any breach by the Customer of its obligations under this Clause 10.

11. Force Majeure

- 11.1 Neither Party will be liable to the other for any failure to deliver the Services, or for any breach by it, of a Service Agreement, where such failure or breach is due to a reason outside the reasonable control of such party, including, but not limited to, any act of God, inclement weather, flood, drought, lightning, fire, strike, lock-out, war, military operations, riot, failure of a third-party telecommunications provider or breakdown of any equipment not supplied by Epsilon (each a "Force Majeure Event").

12. Miscellaneous Provisions

- 12.1 Each Service Agreement supersedes all prior agreements or undertakings between the Parties and constitutes the entire agreement and understanding between the Parties in respect of the matters set out in that Service Agreement.

- 12.2 A Service Agreement does not create any rights or other benefits enforceable by any person who is not a party to the Service Agreement and shall exclude the application of specific legislation ("Excluded Legislation") as set out in Schedule 1.

- 12.3 Either Party must act upon a breach of a Service Agreement by the other party within two (2) years of the date when that Party became aware, or ought to have been aware, of that breach, whichever is earlier, failing which the other Party shall not be liable for such breach.

- 12.4 Each provision of a Service Agreement operates separately if any provision of that Service Agreement or part thereof is deemed to be invalid or otherwise enforceable, such part will be deemed not to form part of the Service Agreement and the remainder of the Service Agreement shall not be affected.

- 12.5 These STC are subject to the Service Order Form, Service Schedules, Acceptable Use Policy, and any relevant documents which may be revised from time to time by Epsilon at its sole discretion, all of which can be found on Epsilon's website as stated in the Service Order Form.. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between any provision of any document forming part of a Service Agreement, the following order of precedence shall prevail to the extent necessary to resolve such conflict or inconsistency:

- (1) Service Order Form(s);
- (2) Service Schedule(s);
- (3) Channel Partner Schedule(s) (where applicable);
- (4) Acceptable Use Policy;
- (5) these STC; and
- (6) any other document or any terms expressly incorporated as part of the Service Agreement.

- 12.6 All references to the Service Order Form in these STC shall also apply, where appropriate, to online orders made through Infiny, Epsilon's on-demand connectivity platform.

- 12.7 Epsilon may make prospective changes to these STC as it deems necessary from time to time. Any such prospective changes made will be published on Epsilon's website as stated in the Service Order Form and shall take effect from the date of publication unless stated otherwise on Epsilon's website.. For avoidance of doubt, none of these prospective changes shall apply retroactively to any Service Agreements which were already entered into prior to any prospective changes taking effect.

- 12.8 Nothing in these STC are intended to create nor shall be construed as being a partnership, joint-venture or agent/principal relationship between Epsilon and Customer. Neither Party shall have any right to oblige or bind the other Party in any manner whatsoever, and nothing herein contained shall give, or is intended to give, any rights of any kind to any third persons.

- 12.9 Should any provision of these STC be determined by any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction to be void, invalid, unenforceable or illegal for whatever reason, such provision(s) shall be null and void; provided, however, that the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall be unaffected thereby and shall continue to be valid and enforceable.

- 12.10 The rights and remedies contained of each of Epsilon and Customer are cumulative and not alternative. Neither the failure nor any delay by either Party in exercising any right, power, or privilege under these STC, Service Agreement, at law or in equity will operate as a waiver of such right, power, or privilege, and no single or partial exercise of any such right, power, or privilege will preclude any other or further exercise of such right, power, or privilege or the exercise of any other right, power, or privilege.

- 12.11 No variation or waiver of any term of each Service Agreement (which shall include these STC) shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the authorised representatives of the parties.

- 12.12 These STC and each Service Agreement (and any such terms incorporated by reference as contemplated by these STC and the relevant Service Agreement, as the case may be) respectively contain the entire agreement and understanding between Epsilon and Customer with respect to the subject matter thereof and supersede all prior and contemporaneous agreements, understandings, inducements, representations and conditions, warranties express or implied, oral or written, of any nature whatsoever with respect to the subject matter hereof. The express terms hereof control and supersede any course of performance and/or usage of the trade inconsistent with any of the terms hereof. Customer further acknowledges that it has not been induced to enter into any Service Agreement by any representation, warranty or undertaking not expressly incorporated into it.

- 12.13 To the extent permitted by any applicable law, Epsilon disclaims and excludes all warranties, conditions or other contractual obligations imposed or implied by any applicable statute, at common law (whether in contract, tort (including negligence)), in equity, by trade custom or otherwise.
- 12.14 Where Customer requests and Epsilon agrees to provide Non-Standard Services to Customer, details of such Non-Standard Services shall be set out in the Service Order Form and Customer shall fully indemnify Epsilon in respect of any loss or damage caused to Epsilon by reason of Epsilon agreeing to provide the Non-Standard Services. Customer further avers that it shall not request Epsilon to provide any Non-Standard Services for which a licence or other similar regulatory approval is required in the jurisdiction(s) where the Non-Standard Services are to be provided.
- 12.15 Where the Service is for or includes the sale of goods, title to the goods shall only pass upon full payment for the goods by Customer to Epsilon. Risk in the goods shall pass to Customer when the goods have left the premises of the OEM or the distributor of the goods, whichever is earlier of the two.
- 12.16 Notwithstanding any rule of law to the contrary, where Customer is already in possession of the goods but has failed to pay for the goods despite the price of the goods having already become due and owing to Epsilon, Epsilon shall have the right to maintain an action against Customer for the unpaid price, without prejudice to any other remedies which Epsilon may have under these STC, at law or in equity.
- 12.17 Where Customer takes or already has possession of the goods before title has passed to Customer, Customer shall:
- (1) not deal with or otherwise dispose of the goods vis-à-vis any third party (including an Affiliate of Customer) without the express consent of Epsilon;
 - (2) store the goods separately from any other goods belonging to third parties;
 - (3) mark the goods as the property of Epsilon; and
 - (4) with reasonable prior notice from Epsilon, allow Epsilon, its agents or representatives access to Customer's premises to verify that the obligations contained in this Clause 12.17 are being complied with.

13. Notices

- 13.1 Notices hereunder shall be in writing and sufficient and received if delivered in person, or when sent via courier, electronic mail (if an e-mail address is provided) or sent by postal delivery service, at such address stipulated on the Service Order Form, or as the Party to whom notice is to be given may have furnished to the other Party in writing in accordance herewith. All such notices shall be deemed to have been given on (i) the date delivered if delivered personally, (ii) the third business day after posting if sent by the applicable postal delivery service, or (iii) the date of transmission if delivered by electronic mail during business hours (or the next business day after transmission if transmitted on a weekend or a public/bank holiday).
- 13.2 Unless otherwise stipulated in the Service Order Form or otherwise agreed between the Parties, such notices must be sent, where applicable to either the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Commercial Officer or Chief Financial Officer of the Parties.

14. Assignment

- 14.1 Epsilon may assign, sub-contract or otherwise deal with its rights, obligations and/or contracted services under a Service Agreement at its discretion.
- 14.2 Epsilon may, at any time, deliver any Service or any part of its Services in part or in whole via any network, infrastructure and/or equipment owned or operated by any third party and used by Epsilon to deliver its Services.
- 14.3 Customer may not assign, sub-contract, sell or transfer Customer's rights or obligations under a Service Agreement without Epsilon's prior written consent.
- 14.4 Each Service Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of all successors and permitted assigns of Epsilon and Customer respectively, and such successors and assigns will be bound by all the obligations of their predecessors or assignors.
